How do i look up a crash report.

A whistleblower investigation that revealed a legal and business research service pocketed millions in fees meant for the Florida Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles has resulted in a $9.8 million settlement with the state, Attorney General Ashley Moody announced Thursday. The agreement settles claims that LexisNexis Coplogic Solutions Inc. systematically underreported the number of car crash reports it sold while serving as a state vendor, to avoid paying the statutorily required $10 fee it collected for every report sold. Learn more about LexisNexis® Police Reports today! As a trusted crash-reporting vendor to the Wisconsin Chiefs of Police Association, LexisNexis® Coplogic™ Solutions is proud to offer LexisNexis® Police Reports at no cost to member agencies. By making reports accessible online, 24/7, to authorized parties, this dynamic solution can help eliminate everyday inefficiencies and resource burdens associated with police report distribution. Moving the process online significantly reduces the amount of mail and counter traffic agencies experience. In addition, it can help agencies: Preserve resources and reallocate them to other law enforcement initiatives Easily track and monitor agency-wide report requests and sales Strengthen compliance with laws regarding the distribution of crash reports Access powerful Investigative Insights
